Build Character

in Carrier Boys

Probably 500 carrier boys have gone through The Star's city dispatch room in the 25 years of the current ownership, a fact which is reflected in the high percentage of business men who recall carrying papers as a lad.

It is an experience common to many Americans, and I thought today I would reprint a piece by Dr. George W. Crane which is being distributed to all members of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association. Here is Dr. Crane's tribute to the newspaper carrier boy.

By Dr. George W. Crane

(Jack Calvin of the Houston Post is just like 2,000 other circulation managers in being a top-notch child psychologist. You parents owe a big debt of gratitude to these CM's who are teaching 500,000 boys honesty and sound American business methods.)

Case K-328: Jack E. Calvin, aged about 50, is one of the greatest rooters for this psychology column I have ever met. He is the circulation manager at the Houston Post. Where I stopped for a visit on route back from Los Angeles. Last year he was president of the ICMA (International Circulation Managers' association).

"Dr. Crane, I shall never forget one of your columns in which you urged parents to let their sons operate newspaper routes," he began. "You pointed out that no other type of work teaches American boys the over-all view of our 'free enterprise' system. And all of us circulation managers appreciate having such advice broadcast to parents. For too many mothers nowadays feel that their sons don't need the money, saying their husbands already have good jobs. They don't realize that carrying a newspaper route is worth 10 times the actual cash a boy derives from it. For it teaches a boy to be faithful to duty and to meet people and to learn how to budget their earnings. It also gives them sales training and bookkeeping, too. You said it would be well worthwhile if parents actually had to pay us newspapermen just to let their sons obtain internship in our American business system."

"But we circulation managers help parents in other ways, too. For example, a few months ago I got three letters from mothers of newspaper carriers for the Post. All three letters came from wives of college teachers in a university. And the letters were so much alike, I suspected they were written in collusion. These three mothers all stated that their sons couldn't collect for the papers, and that the mothers thus were having to make up the deficits. Well, Dr. Crane, that sounded odd for very few customers try to beat a newspaper boy out of his money. So I drove out there and had a talk with the first boy. I asked to see his account book. And every customer had paid up in full, except two who were then on vacation. The boy admitted that they'd pay him just as soon as they returned to Houston. Then I showed the boy the letter I'd received from his mother, where she said he couldn't collect his accounts and that she had to make up the deficits.

"Well, he sheepishly confessed he'd been playing the marble machines at a pool hall and had lost his money. So he had finally concocted that story to fool his mother and get her to hand over the cash he needed to pay up for his papers. "And the second boy was about like the first, except he was making deposits on a hot-rod car which his parents had refused to let him buy. His hot-rod payments depleted his earnings, he'd fabricated the story about his deadbeat clients to coax his mother into giving him extra cash.

"Dr. Crane, we circulation managers train over 500,000 boys each year in sound American business practices. In addition, we then step into home situations as I've described and help parents clear up misunderstandings between themselves and their sons. So we doubly appreciate any kind word from writers like yourself and hope you can tell more parents about our side of the story."

Dulles Doctrine Gains Ground in Latin Meet

By CARLOS R. ESCUDERO
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The United States gained ground today in the 10th Inter-American Conference with its plan for unified action to halt communism in this hemisphere.

Five Latin American nations — Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Honduras and Nicaragua — threw their support to the new "Dulles Doctrine" in sessions yesterday.

Haiti also called for anti-Red action "not in conflict with the principle of nonintervention."

Underlining the importance President Eisenhower's government puts on the issue, Dulles canceled a speaking engagement in Philadelphia tomorrow to continue his personal watch on the progress of his anti-Communist resolution. Discussion of it in the Political-Judicial Committee was expected to take several more days.

The U. S. resolution would call for the 21 American republics to consult and act jointly against Communist seizure of power in any of the American states, just as they now are pledged to repel jointly invasion by a foreign aggressor. It would also provide for disclosure of identity, activities and sources of funds of persons spreading Communist propaganda of traveling in the interests of the Red cause.

Mexico submitted an amendment to expand such joint action to all forms of totalitarian intervention in the Americas.

Revised Cotton Allotments to Be Mailed

Revised cotton acreage for farmers of Hempstead County has been adjusted pursuant to Public Law 290 recently enacted by the Congress and will be mailed to all cotton farms in the county on Wednesday March 10.

Under the revised law many producers will not gain an additional acreage, due to the fact that their original allotments were adequate to meet their needs.

The law provides that any farm that grew cotton in any or all the years 1951, 1952 or 1953 will be entitled to the larger of 65 per cent of the three year average or 40 per cent of the highest planted for any of these years not to exceed 50 per cent of the cropland on the farm. As a result of public Law 290, Hempstead County received 1540 additional acres.

The total allotted acreage for Hempstead County is 16,686 acres which exceeds the 1953 planted acreage by approximately 1500 acres. However the planted acreage probably would have been considerably larger had it not been for adverse weather during the planting season last year.

Although some farms will have the cotton acreage reduced this year, it is apparent that the general economy of the county should not be seriously affected by the acreage reduction program.

In addition to the adjusted allotments new growers allotments will also be mailed March 10.

Arkansas Weather

Lincoln High Students Provide Lunchroom Food

The N. F. A. boys at the Lincoln High School raised 200 broilers for the School Lunch. Girls enrolled in the Home Economics classes dressed and wrapped these broilers for the freezer. These frozen broilers are then available for both the Lincoln School and the Washington Elementary School. Two Hundred baby chicks have been purchased to refill the freezers. Both schools' fatten hogs to be butchered for the School Lunch.

A third project carried on by the vocational students is a lake on the school grounds stocked with fish to be used in meals at both schools. I. W. Williamson, Principal of the Lincoln School and Thurston Hulse, Superintendent of the District, believe that boys and girls learn by doing. The School Lunch is profiting by their experience in Food Production.

Leaders said the administration would not oppose House passage of the bill to slash about 930 million dollars a year off taxes on movie tickets, furs, passenger fares, telephone bills, cosmetics, luggage, handbags and wallets, jewelry, cameras, sporting goods and other items.

But they announced, after the White House conference, that the administration would fight to block out some of these reductions when the bill hits the Senate. The administration position is that the government cannot afford to lose the revenue.

The bill would slice to 10 per cent all excise or sales taxes now above that level, except those on liquor and tobacco, effective April 1.

Outlook Dim for Arkansas Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Trimble (D-Ark) said today that prospects now are dim for congressional authorization of four northwest Arkansas multiple purpose projects.

Projects involved are the proposed Lone Rock, Gilbert, Beaver and Greer's Ferry flood control-power-recreation dams and reservoirs in the White River Valley.

Trimble said he is trying to get them included in an omnibus authorization bill which the House Public Works Committee of which he is a member, now is considering.

However, he told a reporter the Budget Bureau is insisting that when such projects are built, a greater share of the cost should be charged to the power generation facilities than in the past. He said this makes it more difficult for such projects to show a favorable benefit-to-cost ratio.

Congress does not authorize projects unless annual benefits exceed annual costs.

Trimble said that as of now he has been advised the Lone Rock and Gilbert projects "are out," while the Beaver and Greer's Ferry dams are "teetering on the edge."

He said he still expects to present the proposed projects to the Public Works Committee within the next two weeks and ask that they be included in the bill.

The Lone Rock and Greer's Ferry projects already have been authorized by Congress as flood control projects. As proposed, these two would be enlarged to include power generation. The other two projects have not yet been authorized by Congress.

Democratic Central Group Meets Friday

Hempstead's Democratic Central Committee will meet at 10 a. m. Friday at Hope City Hall for the purpose of setting fees, fixing the filing deadline and election dates in this summer's Democratic primaries.

The committee fixes fees for all county, town and city elections. All candidates are invited to be present by Chairman W. S. Atkins.

G. W. Hendrix, 68, Succumbs at Texarkana

G. W. Hendrix aged 68, a former resident of Hempstead, died Monday at the home of his daughter in Texarkana.

He is survived by two daughters, Dovie Hendrix and Mrs. Marie Martin of Texarkana; three sons, Hollis of Rosston, Vernon and Logan Hendrix of Texarkana.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Mt. Moriah Church, near Rosston, by the Rev. Elbert O'Steen.

Former Hope Man Buried in Texas

Funeral services for Hiram Matthew Gleghorn, 79, who died January 15 in San Antonio, Texas, were held on January 18. He is survived by his wife, a son, Albert E. Gleghorn, Mr. Gleghorn formerly lived in Hope, leaving here in 1901.

Little Education But These Two Never Made an Error in Their Particular Fields

BY EDDY GILMORE
FOR HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most particular men in America is a bongo player who never got beyond the eighth grade.

His name is Eddie Condon born Albert Edward Condon, a high priest of pure jazz, who has a consistency akin to the late Babe Ruth's.

The Babe never threw to a wrong base. Eddie never played a wrong chord.

After an honest start on the bongo, Condon has come down to the guitar and he's one of the best in the business. He's a man not given to bragging. The only self-praise I ever heard him indulge in was the remark, "I've never played a solo in my life."

It's Eddie's particularity with words, not music, that fascinates so many of his listeners and friends. Consider his comment on an eminent French music critic who denounced American jazz.

"Who does that frog think he is," asked Eddie, "to come over here and try to tell us how to play. We don't go over there and tell them how to jump on a grape."

That is typical of Eddie. His name for friends and people are just as amusing.

I was talking to him in the other night about a mutual friend who, although he'd never been south of South Chicago, suddenly developed a very strong case of south mouth.

"He's really got a southern accent," I said.

"He certainly has," commented Eddie. "He talks like Amos and Andy."

Defeat Feared in Trying to Halt Tax Cuts

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key Republicans said today the Eisenhower administration faces probable defeat in trying to stave off a wide range of excise tax cuts.

A bill to reduce many of these "nuisance" taxes comes up in the House tomorrow, with leadership backing in with no organized opposition in sight there or in the Senate.

President Eisenhower evidently conceded defeat in the House when he conferred yesterday with GOP congressional leaders.

Leaders said the administration would not oppose House passage of the bill to slash about 930 million dollars a year off taxes on movie tickets, furs, passenger fares, telephone bills, cosmetics, luggage, handbags and wallets, jewelry, cameras, sporting goods and other items.

Legal Notice

LEGAL NOTICE

The annual school election will be held by the qualified electors of the Saratoga School District No. 9 and 11 of Howard and Hempstead Counties on Saturday, March 20, between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. The electors will vote a school tax of 30 mills to be levied for general fund for the operation of schools of said district and for two board members to be elected for Post No. 1 for a period of five years and Post No. 2 for a period of two years.

The polling places in the district will be the same as heretofore designated.

SIGNED: Mrs. Mary S. Goodman

Secretary of School Board

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL BONDS

Washington School District No. 12 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, hereby gives notice that it will sell to the highest bidder for cash its proposed issue of $30,000 in 2 1/2% school bonds dated March 1, 1954, interest payable semi-annually, and maturing serially on March 1 of each year as follows:
$1000 in 1955 to 1959, inclusive.
$1500 in 1960 to 1971, inclusive.
$2000 in 1972 to 1975, inclusive.

These bonds, if approved by the electors of the District at the annual school election on March 20, 1954, will be payable in the first instance from the proceeds of a building fund tax of eight mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of all taxable property in the District, beginning in the year 1955, which will constitute a continuing annual levy until the principal and interest of the bonds are paid in full.

The buyer may name the place of payment and trustee, and may have the right to convert the bonds to a lower rate of interest, substantially in accord with the Universal Bond Values Tables and subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Education. The buyer will be expected to pay the following expenses of the issue: the printing and trusteeing of the bonds and the fee of Townsend & Townsend, Attorneys, Little Rock, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued. The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest, as follows: from surplus in the building fund, on any interest paying date; from funds from any source, on any interest paying date on and after March 1, 1959.

The sale will be held upon Auction bids at 11:30 o'clock A. M. on the 30th day of March, 1954, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools in Washington, Arkansas. Each bidder will be required to file a certified check in the sum of $600, payable to the District, as liquidated damages if he is the successful bidder and fails to complete the purchase. Other checks will be returned promptly. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids. For further information address the undersigned.

GIVEN this 1st day of March, 1954.

they don't give him some free time, too.
The Federal Communications act requires networks that give time to one candidate for an office to provide equal time for their candidates for the same office. In practice, Federal Communications Commission regulations have been interpreted by the networks as meaning they must provide equal time for presenting the views of opposing political groups.

Because the matter conceivably may come before the seven member FCC, Lee did not want to comment on it in detail.

Do CRAMPS give you that monthly look?

Why let tell-tale misery, "nerves" show in your eyes? Does your mirror show an older-looking, worn-out, nervous face during your "bad days"? Why let men see that you are suffering from monthly cramps? Try a little Gardul each day as thousands of women do. Get it help build strength and resistance so you have less and less misery each month. Some go through periods without feeling any discomfort at all. Also helps relieve jittery nerves—when better. Look, feel, act younger, more normal all month. Ask for Gardul. (Says "card-you-see").
